

THESE DOGS NEED A HOME

OSSO & SIMBA

These Anatolian Sheppard brothers are super sweet dogs who would do well in a farm setting or on a large piece of property. They are loyal to their owner and would love to be defending livestock or able to roam a larger area.

Our Story:

Osso & Simba were saved from a farm property that let them loose because they didn't want the dogs anymore. We managed to rehome them temporarily, but we need to find a forever home for these sweet boys. We want to keep them together because they are brothers. They get along with dogs, but not cats.
