

COURTESY LISTING REIGN

Reign aka Reigny

About 3.5-4 yrs old Pitbull 65 lbs.

Spayed and chipped

Best if only dog, but could be good if someone was present enough to train and ensure she didn't attempt dominance. She was attacked by another dog in a house we were staying at and then we moved into a smaller apartment. She has been a bit more dominant with the other pit. She lived with my other pit and little dog for months and never harmed them or even barked at them.

Not good with cats, squirrels, or little children as they move to fast towards her.

She is very cuddly, wants to play, but can play hard so requires someone who understands the breed. She isn't aggressive in her play, just rough as a teenager may be when a bit bigger than they understand themselves to be.

She is leash trained, best with a prong collar while going through any transitions i.e. a new owner, but is doing wonderful on a leash now. She is crate trained as well as house trained.

She is super sweet, good on walks and is good with people and animals passing by as long as the dog doesn't lunge at her. She is however easily redirected even now when she sees a squirrel or cat. This requires control over her leash quickly.

She loves to swim and play at the beach, she's great on car rides and loves to go on adventures everywhere.

She wants to please, will be by your side whenever you call, and meets her owners energy level, although does require at least a solid timeframe of exercise per day.
